THEO. R. B. DE GROOT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

north as John O'Groat's house, and who has added to the proverbial acuteness of his countrymen the "active principle" of a New York petty speculator, is not likely to have lent money to a strateger upon the mere introduction of Mr. Webster. I will ask you, Mr. Editor, whether it is likely he would have lent me that or any smaller sum without taking any receipt or note of hand? I declare emphasically he never lent me any money whatever. I had no occasion to put myself under any such obligation to him, for as soon as I found that Webster possessed no means in New York I made other arrangements for a supply in case I should require it. About a month before I left New York, Mr. Draper, with whom I had previously declared I would hold no further communication on business, also placed at my disposal a sum sufficient to pay my way to Couta Ries; I declined to receive it.

After Kickpatrick had done all he could to blast Webster's reputation in my mind, I heard him offer to lond money to him, "as far as his small means would allow." He lent him eighty dollars. He then came to me, wishing me to become security for it. I refused "to put my hand to paper" for Webster. Subsequently he lent him other small sems of money, as he told me, and took Webster's note or notes of hand, as he told me.

I have to observe that neither in the only letter he old me.

I have to observe that neither in the only letter he wrote me in New York, nor in that which he addressed to me here, (published at the same time with my "Exposion,") does he say he ever lent me money, nor does he say he for prepayment of any such sum as he now says he ent me. I never received any other letters from him. I twere true I owed him money he would have written o me here to pay it.

Extract of a letter from Mr. Kirkpatrick to Mr. Ander son, dated May 4, 1852;—

"I am glad you slipped away in the quiet manner you did, and got clear safe, for really these two vagabones would have done something to you, either in the way of iolence or poison."

Extract of a letter to editor of New York Herato, dated eptember 4, 1857.

September 4, 1857.

"Antiderson mysteriously disappeared, for fear, I suppose, I would have detained him for the mency he had o me." The two paragraphs collated, manifest the malice of Mr. Kirkpatrick. If it be asked what his motives could be in attacking me as he has done, after all his forme friendly professions, I canonly say that, after being disapposted in securing Webster's debt in Co-ta Rich, (for the Consulsent back his power) and Wobster returned to New York with a second grant of the Transit, he imagined it would be good policy to deprecate Webster's wrath by endeavoring to decry my character and neutralize, if possible, his own published tostimony, thereby conclinating Webster, for a quiet settlement of his claim. Such men sacrifice every principle of honor and honesty, whitst they bow down before the golden calf and worship only "the almighty dollar."

Webster, for a quiet settlement of his claim. Such men sacrifice every principle of honor and honesty, whilst they bow down before the golden calf and worship only "the almighty dollar."

Kirkpatrick knew perfectly well, two months before I left, my intention to quit New York. About a week before that event I conversed with him about his position and expectations as regarded Webster, and advised him to send out a power to the Consul to recover his claim, by levying upon part of the bonds due to Webster by the Costa Rica government, I having declined to accept a power myself. On the day of my departure I reterated my advice in writing. Spencer, who had gone out to Costa Rica, held the certificates for $125,000 due by Costa Rica to Webster, for the capture of the steamers by Spencer, but without any endorsement or transfer to the latter. Of this $50,000 was to be paid by Webster's order to Spencer and $25,000 to the officers of the expedition who captured the steamers in the river San Juan, so that there was a balance coming to Webster, much more than a sufficient to cover Kirkpatrick's demand. I deemed it his only chance for getting paid, although it is now more than a "forlorn hope." No man will believe that I offered to guarantee that he would get anything from Webster in New York, after showing what he declared touching the latter's tricky character and swindling career. Equally incredible is his assertion to the effect that two months before any one would treat for the Transit, namely, "within a few days of my arrival in New York I reassured him that Webster would be shortly worth $125,000," and that "I would see him paid undoubtedly." If I had seen before I left New York Kirkpatrick's written relation of Webster's antecedents, published in your paner, conjointly with my "Exposition," and afterwards in the New York Kirkpatrick's written relation of Webster's antecedents, published in your paner, conjointly with my "Exposition," and afterwards in the New York Kirkpatrick for a sum for beyond the amount due to

AN OPERATIC SQUABBLE—VESTVALI IN COURT.
Soon after the close of the opera at the Aca demy of Music on Wednesday night a fracas took place between Signor Alexander Maccaferri, the Italian tenor, and Henry Vestvali, brother o the renowned contraito, in Broadway, nearly oppo-site the Lafarge House, in which the last named gentlemen received a severe beating at the hands of his adversary. It appears, from what we could learn, that an ill feeling has existed between the above gentlemen in question in consequence of the tenor's bringing a suit against Madamo consequence of the tenor's bringing a suit against Madame Vestvali for the recovery of salary alleged to have been due him by the latter. Maccaferri was engaged to sing at concerts to be given in this country and Cuba, and was to be paid liberally for so doing. For some reason or other the fair contraits was unable to comply with the contract, when a lawsuit for the recovery of damages was brought against her by the tenor. Out of this grew an ill feeling between Maccaferri and Henry Vestvali, which terminated in a recontre as previously stated. On the hight in question, as Maccaferri and Vestvali were saun tering down Broadway in company with a friend the former made use of some language which was deemed highly offensive by Vestvali. Hard words were used by both gentlemen, when Vestvali struck Maccaferri. The latter immediately burned upon his adversary and beat him in a severe manner, cutting his face, and putting both eyes into deep mourning. At this juncture the Fifteenth ward police came up and an end was put to the disturbance. Vestvali preferred a charge of assault and battery against Maccaferri, when the latter was taken to the station house and there detained for the night. Yesterday the distinguished prisoner was brought before Justice Davison, at the Jefferson Market Police Court, where a number of artists were eagerly awaining the demanatent. Madame Vestvali was among the authence, and evinced deep sympathy for her brother. The complainant made an affidavit against the defendant, charging tum with having committed in self-drience. The magistrate, on learning that the defendant was competited to leave the city on business, refrained from hoisting him for trial on the charge of assault and battery, but compelied him to enter into bonds to keep the peace. Mr. Joseph Fells, of No. 63 Vestvali for the recovery of salary alleged to have been siness, retrained from honding min or that on the entries of assault and battery, but compelled him to enter into bonds to keep the peace. Mr. Joseph Fells, of No. 68 Walker street, immediately stepped forward and became bail for the future good behavior of the offunding tenor and thus ended the operatic squabble between signors Vestvali and Maccalerti.

CHARGE OF PALSE PRETENCES.

Maurice Lassner, a dentist, residing at No. 173 Cana street, was arrested yesterday on charge of having defrauded David Lutzbergher, a German, out of $95 by means of false pretered. The prisoner, it is alleged, ad-vertised for a clerk which was duly answered by the com-plainant. The dentist, it is alleged, represented that he was going to open a store at No. 24 Park place, where he planant. The dentist, it is alleged, represented that he was going to open a store at No. 24 Yark place, where he would import laces and embroideries on an extensive scale; that he had a cash capital of $10,000 which he had deposited with Messrs. Balink Saunders, bankers, of No. 24 Exchange plose. Further, that he was willing to give the complainant a salary of $40 per month, provided he would leave a deposit by way of security. The complainant states that believing in the truth of these representations, he deposited the fum of $90 with the defendant and was duly installed as his clerk. Weeks and months passed, yet no salary was forthcoming. His visions of a comfortable salary and hight work were only realized in part. The labor was light, it was true, but the wages were considerably below what might be naturally expected. Finally, inoding that he was the vicinm of misplaced confidence, he determined to get back his deposit of $66 and leave the employment of the doctor for some more genial sphere. But judge of his disappointment when he found that he could not obtain even his own money out of the clutches of his employer. To be working for nothing was bad enough, in all conscience, but to swindled out of his deposit was more time he could bear, and accordingly he repaired to the Essex Market Poline Court, and there preferred a charge for false pretences against Lissuer. Justice Breuman committed the accused for examination.

CHARGE OF BIOTING ON ELECTION DAY.

CHARGE OF BIOTING ON ELECTION DAY. John Caffrey was taken into custody by officers Maney and Allen, of the Twentieth ward police, on charge of as and Alien, of the Iwentieth ward police, on charge of as-saulting officer Loyd, and rescuing a prisoner from him on election day. Officer Loyd was go badly injured that he could not appear to make a complaint against the ac-cused. The prisoner was committed for examination on the complaint of the policemen who arrested him.

ALLEGED RIGHWAY ROBBERY. John Flannigan and John and Mary Quinn were taken John Flannigan and John and Mary Quinn were taken into custody by the Fifth ward police, on charge of high-way robbery preferred against them by Mrs. Mary Graham, proprietress of the store No. 78 Reade street. The complainant alleges that on Wednesday evening the prisoners came into her store and made a premeditated and savage assault upon her, and then robbed her of $15.75, which she had upon her person. Mrs. Graham's appearance fully testilled to the correctness of her story, so far as it related to the assault, for her face bore ample evidence of rough usage at the hands of some parties. Justice Osborn committed the prisoners in default of bail.

STABBING AFFRAY. At a late hour on Wednesday night a row and stabbi At a late hour on Wedneaday taght a row and stabbing affray occurred in Second avenue, near Tnirty nin'h street between Michael Costello, an Italian, and three met named Patrick Morton, John Golding, and John Murphy in which the Italian received a number of severe cuts with a knife in the hands of his adversaries. The wound ed man was conveyed to Believue hospital for medica attendance, while the accused were brought before Justice Davison at the Jefferson Market Folice Court, where they were held to await the result of the wounded man' fujuries.

CARRLESS USE OF FIREARMS. Charles Hogg, a sailor, was taken into custody by Cap tain Turnbuil, of the Eighth ward police, on a charge of using firearms in a careless manner. The prisoner, it is alleged, while on board the steamship City of Baltimore, fired off a pixtol, the ball from which entered the side of one of the crew named John Finley, thereby indicting a gevere if not fatal wound. Hogg was held to bail to await the result of the wounded man's injuries. Finley was conveyed to the bospital.

Mr. Branch had been too long subjected to the contumely of this Board; but he had been employed by the Common Council to perform a certain duty. He had rendered those services, and expended not only his own money but money of others, and he now asks that he be refunded the money that he has thus expended. If he were to sue the Common Council in any court in New York he would recover it. He is now poor, and, as an act of justice, he (Alderman M.) demanded that the bill he paid.

Alderman Wilson moved a reference.

Alderman Fulner hoped there was philanthropy enough in this Board to pay Mr. Branch the $2,000 that he has expended on a mission at the order of the Board.

Alderman Adams desired to know by what authority Mr. Branch went to England.

Alderman Hoffmer said that, as a member of the committee, he had only to say that aldermen Briggs and Tucker were the majority of that committee who authorized Mr. Branch to go on his mission.

Alderman Owess hoped the members of the Board would vote unanimously to pay Mr. Branch the money that he has expended.

Alderman Hoffmer said there was no doubt that the majority of the committee had the power to order him to go on the mission, and he ought to be paid.

The resolution to pay Mr. Branch $2,000 was adopted by a a vote of 17 to 3—Wilson, McComell and Adams voting in the negative.

The resolution to pay Mr. Branch $2,000 was adopted by a a vote of 17 to 2—Wilson, McConnell and Adams voting in the negative.

Alderman McSpron stated that the Committee on the Harlem Railroad, as to whether they should be stopped from using steam below Forty-second street, would be prepared to report on Monday next.

The Proposition For Cleaning The Street.

On motion of Adderman Felders, the report of the Committee on the contract of Forbes & Co., for cleaning the streets, at a cest of $345,000 per annum, was called from the table and read.

Alderman Wilson said that there was a proposition from Geo. W. Morton, City Inspector, to do the work for $290,000 a year. He could not see what benefit the city could derive from giving a contract, when the City Inspector proposed to do it at nearly one hundred thousand dollars a year less. He moved the matter be laid over until next Thursday. Lost.

Alderman Treier moved that it be referred to Committee on Cleaning streets. Lost.

The matter was ultimately laid over until next Monday.

THE PAY OF THE FOLICE OF CENTRAL PARK.

Alderman Brakk supported the resolution, and contend ed that the police were entitled to their pay.

REGULATING AND GRADING HAMILTON SQUARE.

The Finance Committee, to whom was referred the resolution in favor of grading Hamilton square, in order to give work to the unemployed laborers, made a report, stating that in view of all the facts of the case and of the favor with which the proposition is received, not only by the Comptroller, but by every person with whom the committee have conferred, they respectfully recommend for adoption the following resolution:—

Resolved, That the Comptroller is hereby authorized and directed to advertise for proposals for regulating and grading Hamilton square, the contract to be awarded to puch person or persons as will complete said work within the shortest time, and on terms the most advantageous to the city. Adopted.

LIGHTING HARLEM WITH GAS.

BOARD OF COUNCILMEN.

THE MEMORIAL OF THE UNEMPLOYED.

This Board was in session last evening, the President J. N. Phillips, Esq., presiding. As soon as the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, a few petitions were offered, among which was the memorial of the committee appointed by a mass meeting of the unemploy-ed a few days ago in the Park, which was read at the adjourned meeting held yesterday morning, for which see report of the meeting in the Park in this morning's HERALD Mr. Books moved its reference to the Committee on Fi

Mr. Joses, chairman of that committee, amended that motion by suggesting its reference to the Special Committee on the Mayor's Message, as it more properly belonged motion by suggesting its reference to the Special Committee on the Mayor's Message, as it more properly belonged to them.

Mr. Ottarson said the paper should be rejected. He characterized the late message of the Mayor's clerk with inciting the flour riots in 1856. He affirmed that that gentleman penned his Honor's message, which had aroused the feelings of the working classes. Mr. O was of the opinion that if the Common Council did not immediately procure work for them the results might be serious. It was stated by certain parties that the Mayor was willing to alleviate the condition of the unemployed as much as it was in his power to do so, but his hands were bound by the black republicans.

Mr. Jones was willing, so long as he was a member of the Board, to do all he could for the poor. It would be remembered that on last Thursday he offered a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, suggesting the propriety of taking instanciate steps for the erection of a New York Post Office and other public buildings. If this were done, the thousands of working men now out of employment would be set at work. He was sorry to say that the resolution was haid on the table in the Board of Alderman, but he hoped action would be had on it this evening.

Ultimately the paper was referred to the Special Committee on the Mayor's Message.

Mr. WAULD Officed a presultion, asking the appointment of a special committee to majore and offices. Five hundred dollars each was mentioned as an appropriate sum.

PURTHER DEFINITION OF THE MEALTH CENTRAL PRES.

Mr. WAULD Officed a presultion, asking the appointment of a special committee to majore and report as to the expediency of appropriating $250.000 for improvements in the Central Park, and thus give employment to the workingmen. It was referred to the Commissioners of the Central Park, He maintained that they had paid their men, the Central Park, and thus give employment to the workingmen. It was referred to the Commissioners of the Central Park. He maintained that they had past their men, and if anybody was to blame it was the Common Council. Another motion, asking the Commissioners to present a report as to the amount of money they expended, was presented by Mr. Hopper.

Mr. Watght said that the Commissioners made a false report when they said they employed seven hundred men, for he believed one hundred and fifty was the most that was ever engaged on it. He altimothed that the tax payers were burdened by the Commissioners, and wondered what they wanted with such a large sum as they asked. He was of the opinion that Staten letand and Westchester county men, and not New Yorkers, received all the money. He asked if the last grant made to them was aiready expended, and said that it was not improbable that they had $20,000 in bank. The speaker would vote for any amount in order that his poor fellow citizens should have employment, but it was the duty of the Commissioners to make a correct return of the amounts expended. They should employ men who lived in the twenty-two wards of the city, and not Westchester men. He had been credibly informed that these Commissioners had a fat office. In conclusion Mr. Waugh said that this was one of the most heilish designs that was ever concocted. He went in for a thorough investigation of their affairs.

Mr. Orranson came again to the rescue of the Commissioners. He said that they did not ask what were the political opinions of their employes, but if the truth were known it would be seen that nine-tenths of the men were democrate.

Mr. Jones said that although the Commissioners of the

Mr. Jones said that although the Commissioners of the Mr. Jones said that although the Commissioners of the Central Fark had been appointed contrary to the wishes of the citizens of New York, he could not sit still and hear them traduced by their political opponents. He knew some of those Commissioners personally, and had unbounded confidence in their integrity. But Judging from the result of the election on Tacaday last—the great democratic victory—the citizens at the forthcoming election in December would set all these matters straight.

Mr. Butrier, remarked that the Commissioners were audacious in seking for $300,000 in one year. An investigation into their affairs should be had, for contradictory reports as to the number of man employed had been circulated.

rejoins as to hamber of man enjoyee are rejuisted.

Mr. Ottasson affirmed that the exciting speeches made by the members were done for political effect, and they talked at random. He had the original papers before him, which showed that they asked for no political sura, but the ordinance appropriated $100,000.

Mr. Hopper's resolution, calling upon the Commissioners of the Central Park to report to this Board at his next meeting the amount paid to laboring men and for what other purposes the money had been expended, was adopted.

A number of bills for expenses incurred in erecting booths at the late election were laid over under the role. After the transaction of some other routine matters, the Board adjourned till Monday.

More Difficulties in Dr. Cheever's Church. An adjourned meeting of the Church of the Puritans, on Union square, took place last night to receive the report of the committee appointed at a previous meeting to re-port upon the protest of the ex-deacons and others to the action of the church in respect to the difficulties that have grown up in the church between a portion of the men bers and the pastor.

Mr. FREDERICK KING called the meeting to order. hymn was then read, and a prayer was offered by Rev Mr. Martin, of the University, beseeching God for a due sense of the responsibilities of the occasion, and for a peaceful and fraternal feeling, and for that fearlessness in the performance of duty, how painful soever, which would be sustaining in the performance of it.

The Presument then called for the report of the commit tee previously appointed. Mr. FREDERICE KING, chairman of the committee, reas the report, being a reply to the protest of the deacons. The method of cailing the meetings of the church, objected The method of cailing the meetings of the church, objected to by the deacons, was reviewed, defended and justified; an extensive history of the existing difficulty in the church was given, and the whole philosophy of congregational church government glanced at. The inconsistency, aspecially of Deacon Kingsiey, who had been elected to the deacouship at a meeting called in precisely the same manner as that now objected to, was severely commented on. The points really at issue were defined to be three:—ist. Had the church the right to make the changes of the rules that they did? 2d. The reasons for doing as the church did; 3d. The mode of electing it. Each of these points was discussed in turn, with great tresness and severity upon the deacens and protestants. It was shown that in numerous ways, by congregational usage, deacens were removed from effice at the will of the church. The reasons for the removal in this case were stated at large the chief of which was their strengt to precour the removal of the pastor, concrary to the ludgment of the church at to what the best interests of the church required. Some very causake comments were made upon the recoil of the attempts of the deacons upon their own heads. The evils of a life tenare of the office of deacon; epicularly the assumption of a right to be regarded as a distinct class of persons in the church, and to the reception of an undue deference on account of their authority. Such were the reasons which impelled the church to take the coarse which they did take, and which the report fully justifies. As to the mode in which the charges in the order of the church were effected, it is a misapprehension to confound the action of the church with an act of discipline. If the deacons had succeeded in obtaining the dismissed of the pastor they certainly would not have called that an act of discipline; and will they assign a name to an act when applied to themselves which they would not think of using if applied by themselves to another. The report proceeded to comment u to by the deacons, was reviewed, defended and justified: an extensive history of the existing difficulty in the church with the paster.

MONEY MARKET.

THURSDAY, Nov. 5-5 P. M. The stock market was quite buoyant this morning, with much more than the usual activity in the leading speculative securities. A large portion of the operations continue for cash, and the time transactions are principally at short dates. At the first board to-day Tennessee State 6's advanced 1 per cent; Virginia 6's, 1; Missouri 6's, 3; Hudson River Railroad 1st mortgage bonds, 1; Bank of Commerce, 3; Delaware and Hudson, 1; Pacific Steamship Company, 4; Cumberland Company, 4; New York Central Railroad, 1; Galena and Chicago, 3; Michigan Southern, old, 1; do., preferred, 1; Illi-nois Central Railroad, 2; Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati, 2; Cleveland and Toledo, 3; Chicago and Rock Island, 14; La Crosse and Milwaukie, 4. Michigan Central Railroad opened at 44, and closed with very moderate sales, at 53 per cent cash. This shows an advance of 9 per cent on the opening price, a movement somewhat rare in these times. The tendency of the market is de-sidedly upward. Most of the prominent railroad companies have certainly improved their con-dition, and the process of liquidation and economy is still going on. Those which have passed their dividends have been actually strengthened by so doing, and they have been enabled, by general necessity for contracting, to place their floating debts in a much more favorable position. The spirit of compromise rules the times, and arrangements of a satisfactory character can now be made which would not have been entertained a few months since. It is well that our railroad companies have come to this, and also well that the public have so liberally and so generally responded. The cause that has brought about this improvement in the finances of our railroads is one that sooner or later was inevitable. These companies were renning riot upon their floating debts. There appeared to be no limit to them, and they increased with the most ruinous rapidity. Everything that went into construction account was represented by so much floating debt, and as it was the most expensive item of indebtedness to carry, it absorbed the great bulk of net earnings. We are glad to see that in nearly every case where a large floating debt exists the matter has been taken hold of in the most determined and decided manner. In many instances the most favorable results have followed. In the Cleveland and Toledo Railroad Company the floating debt has been almost entirely removed and the finances of the company placed in good order. The road is now in good hands and is well managed. The Michigan Central Railroad Company is making great progress with its new financial arrangements. The Michigan Southern have a more difficult matter in hand, and it must be a long time yet before its finances can be placed in proper shape. The Chicago and Rock Island Company is, we believe, in a very strong position. With no floating debt and a very small funded debt, the stockholders will get the whole of the net earnings, whatever they may be. The Galena and Chicago is not at all embarrassed, and enjoys an immense local business, with the prospect of a large through traffic as its connections extend across the Mississippi river.

At the second board there was a pretty general improvement in prices, without much activity in operations. Cumberland Coal advanced | per cent; Cleveland and Toledo, 4; New York Central, 4; Reading, 15; Chicago and Rock Island, 2. Michigan Central Railroad, after touching 53 per cent this morning, settled back to 50 per cent, cash, this after-Central Railroad, after touching 53 per cent this morning, settled back to 50 per cent, cash, this afterneon; a sale was made at 49, seller 69 days; Missouri State 6's closed steady at 72½ per cent, cash; Panama Railroad sold at 75 a 75½ at this afternoon's board; the previous sale was at 72 per cent. Cleveland and Toledo closed firm at 33 per cent. Cleveland and Toledo closed firm at 33 per cent. Cleveland and Toledo closed firm at 33 per cent. The new managers of this road feel confident of making it a fine property. Suits for a large amount, we understand, have been commenced against the Reading Railroad Company. If there be no defence—and none is known except the plea of nsury, which by the law of Pennsylvania cannot be pleaded by a railroad corporation—jadgment must be obtained on all in course of the present month. The company must then either pay or give month. The company must then either pay or give for prime California. Corn was in good demand, we month. The company must then either pay or give for prime California. Corn was in good demand, we for prime California. quires should be given by some party who holds uncombered real estate to the full amount of the suits. If the security be obtained for present suits, it must be likely to avail the company, as the giving of security will be a great inducement for other creditors to commence suits. If paid, the inducements to other cregitors will be still greater. If neither course is adopted, the only alternative is to make an assignment, or to put all the property of the company in the hands of trustees—either of which is fatal to the interests of the stockholders.

The Assistant Treasurer reports to-day as folthe payments include $67,000 on California drafts.

The land sales of the Illinois Central Railroad Company for the month of October amounted to Some of the Chicago papers are urging upon the State Treasurer the propriety of paying the interest on the State debt, and disbursing the proceeds of the " two mills tax," (some $600,000), for the purpose of relieving the commercial world as far as possible, by supplying it with that amount of currency.

Our advices from the West report greater activity in the movements of grain. The probability is that all the leading lines of railroads at the West will do a very heavy freighting business this coming winter. In most of them important reductions have been made in the operating expenses, and their gross earnings will give a larger per centage of net income The longer the produce of the West is delayed, the greater the gain to the railroads. The West is fairly running over with produce, and there are markets for the whole of it. The insurance companies do not insure on lake navigation after the 10th of November, and from that date the railroads must show increased business in freighting. The roads running east and west through Illinois and Wisconsin must do all the carrying trade of those regions, and the most moderate activity in the movements of grain will give their full capacity a fair trial. The Morris Canal Company has given notice to olders of scrip certificates for fractional parts of $1 coo, that they will be received in exchange for re' gular coupon bonds when presented in sums of $1,000. If offered before January 1, the coupon of October I will inure to the benefit of the holder of the scrip; after that date the coupon will be de tached, and the holder of the scrip will lose the in terest.

A reorganization of the La Crosse and Milwaukie Railroad Company is announced, under the following board of officers:-

Hen. Stephen Clark, President, Albany, N. Y.

Birectors—Ell Ferry, B. V. N. Radeinfe, Artemas Fish, thony, N. Y.; Jas. A. Brewster, David E. Wheeler, Alber, Jackson Hedley, E. H. Goodrich, M. M. Strong, Moses mediand, Milwaukie. The Morris County Bank (New Jersey) has suspended business, in consequence of the amount of onavailable assets in their possession. The adjourned meeting of the hardware trade will be held at the Astor House on Friday, 6th inst., at o'clock P. M., to hear the report of the committee appointed on the 23d October.

The city of Philadelphia is a good deal like this city just now, much embarrassed in its finances. The non-payment of dividends by the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company bar deprived the city of a portion of its resources, and it is feared some diffi-torest on the city deld.

The domestic commission houses do not appear to be doing any business of moment. The jobbers continue to cell to a moderate extent, but at low prices, mostly for cash. There is no doubt that all staple goods will pay well for keeping another year, as production is so much reduced, and the cost of the raw material is not falling. Large sales can only be effected at prices below cost. When the demand becomes active, some time hence, there will be found few goods, in comparison, to supply the market. No large business is now expected until the farmers have sent their crops to market, which will not be till after next spring. With this prespect of trade, the disposition will be to keep on hand small stocks. It will take another harvest to set all things right.
